

REMEMBRANCE DAY—LEST WE FORGET

11th November 2022
Term 2—Week 2

It is important to us at Chailey School that we recognise and think carefully about human conflict and its impacts. Today is the 11th November, Remembrance Day, and we took the opportunity this morning to hold a short school service on the playground to respect those people who have been involved in war and conflict in the past and present. The service was led by Mr Dudgeon and two of our senior students who read a traditional and contemporary poem. The last post was played by some of our young musicians and the minute's silence was respectfully observed by everyone.

Weekly Message from Mrs Key

On Tuesday evening we held our first ever information evening for year 10 families to support with work experience. We were delighted to be joined by 2 visitors, councilor Tamsyn D’Arienzo (chairperson of Hamsey Parish Council) and Richard Green (Deputy Head of Chailey Heritage). They were both able to inform families of opportunities and benefits of work experience. Additionally 2 current year 11 students, Lucien Bourgeois and Lucy Nuttall spoke to the audience about their experiences of engaging in the world of work through work experience. It was an excellent addition to the school calendar and we really hope it enthuses our current year 10’s as they research their work experience for next summer.

Amelia Morgan had another successful weekend after being invited to compete at the prestigious David Ward Hunt Cup international event. This event is held every 2 years and hosts over 15 different nationalities and hundreds of different clubs from around the globe. Amelia competed in the 9-12 female age group in both trampoline and DMT. In trampoline she qualified in the top 8 out of 35 for the finals on Sunday where she finished 7th overall! Then on Sunday qualified for the finals and finished 3rd overall. Well done Amelia.

CELEBRATING ART AT CHAILEY SCHOOL

We were delighted when three students from the class of 2022 had their work selected to be exhibited in the Farleys Gallery schools competition.

Chailey Art Department submitted work in three categories: sketch books, photography and textiles. The aim of the awards is to celebrate and raise awareness of the creative achievement of young people in East Sussex schools and colleges promoting a wider recognition of the importance of creative work in schools, and giving young people the opportunity to exhibit their work in the Farleys Gallery, beyond the classroom and into the community. Congratulation's to Ashton Coleman who received a highly commended award in Photography, Chloe Brazier and Lara Wheatcroft; their work looked amazing in the gallery space.
